VOLUME 52

LIFE is a JOURNEY through PATHWAYS.

Each beckons a call

To joy, fulfillment and love.

The choice is ours to make.

Our high school pathway is present.

New beginnings live in the future.

We follow the road to its end.

The past is behind;

The now – COMMENCEMENT.

FACULTY

Overwhelmed by the work required of us,

Not until it has passed

Will we reflect on those years to see

That the Faculty brought out our best.

STUDENT LIFE

The day is complete. Joining our friends,
We take time out to rest and relax.
Remembering the good things;
The joys that we've shared –
Lingering thoughts of VILLA.

RING DAY

On May 6, 1979, the juniors received their school rings – the first formal induction to their final senior year at Villa Maria Academy.

As we go through life, our ring will stand as a symbol of the path of our education and also of the friendships and experiences gained along the way.

Fr. Evarist Nowak celebrates the Ring Day Mass.

Sandra Manikowski receives her ring from Fr. Evarist.

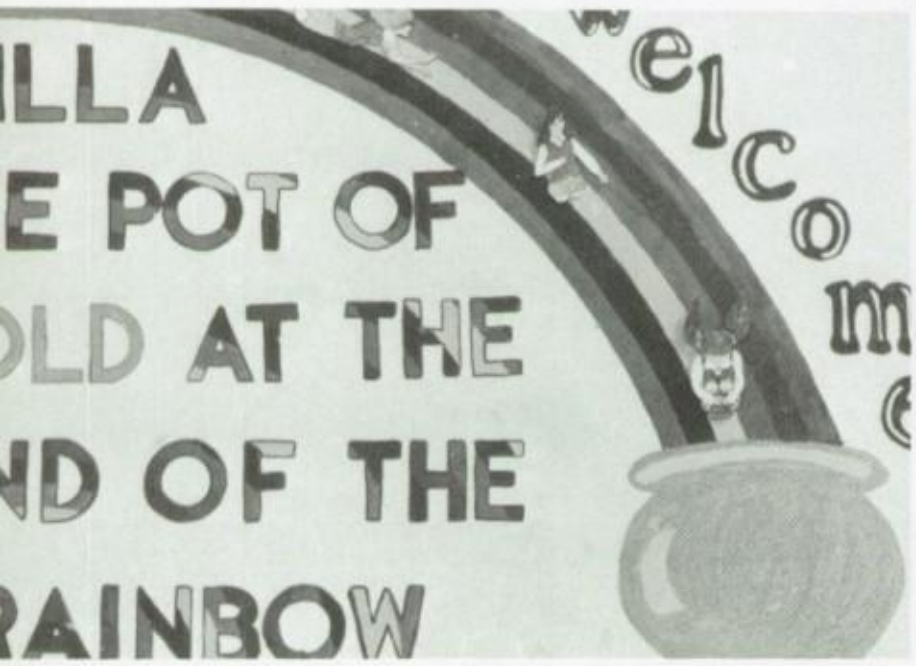
Kim Szeluga and Colleen Brzyski exchange a sign of peace.

Mrs. Empric admires Lynn's ring.

Mr. & Mrs. J. Cieply and Mr. & Mrs. D. Gatza gather to view their daughters' rings.

HOSPITALITY HOUR AND OPEN HOUSE

Open House and Hospitality Hour give us an opportunity to show Villa through the eyes of its students. Through guided tours of our classrooms and buildings, we hope to show a superior curriculum and the numerous activities available in the warmth and friendliness characteristic of Villa Maria Academy.



Cheryl Brzezniak portrays the work of the Mission Club.

Elizabeth Woloszyn gives a tour to prospective students and their families.

Ann Marie Gruenthaner and friend examine the Polish Club exhibit.

Sister Therese and Lynn Pokornowski explain the religion curriculum.

Faculty and Parents' Guild welcome visitors to Villa.

FRESHMEN INITIATION

To a freshman, the first few months of high school are sometimes very bewildering, but a friend and a smile help the days to pass.

Each year the halls of Villa become charged with the excitement of freshmen initiation. As the day approaches, letters, laughter, and whispered secrets are exchanged between seniors and their little "freshies".

On October 26, 1979, the seniors finally revealed their secret natures to their freshmen and dressed them to the theme of the pink panther. The next evening climaxed with the banquet and friendships and memories to be cherished for a lifetime.

VILLECHO

The job of a newspaper person is not an easy one. The Villecho staff is responsible for capturing the true spirit of Villa in its features and articles. The newspaper shows us the who, what, where, when, and why of everyday living in our school. Its creation is a complicated process but the results preserve memories of Villa for the future.

Nancy Grasso, Mrs. Barbara Sokolowski and S.M. Eustace are reflecting upon their job requirements.

Kim Szeluga (co-editor) collects written articles from Karen Kotlowski, Sue Wozniak, Eileen Zielinski, Teresa Klos, Anne Gorski, and Julie Kazmierzak.

Artists Sue Moskal, Diane Motyczynski, and Janet Turner work on drawings.

Lou Ann Jezewski (co-editor) examines the fruit of her labor.

Camille Szczerbiak (co-editor), Paula Colern, Linda Malkiewicz, Cheryl Watkins, and Pam Olejniczak are folding papers.

Barb Zasowski, Maria Whitred, Janet Zawistowski, and Liz Pelczynski are stacking papers for distribution.

MISSION CLUB AND CLC

The purpose of the Mission Club is to raise money through various projects and send it to worthy causes throughout the year. Members spent their time collecting Bell's supermarket tapes and redeeming them for cash profits. The project culminated with the reception of a check sent to a mission of their choice.

This year CLC, Catholic Living Community, collected plants that they gave to the senior sisters in the infirmary.

Janine Mackowiak and Kim Szeluga count Bell's tapes as Sister Michaeline receives a check for them from Joanne Bentkowski.

Linda Gutmann receives her Third Order pin from Fr. Evarist.

THIRD ORDER

The induction to the Third Order of Saint Francis is a privilege and honor to those interested in helping others through Christ.

Third Order members partake in a prayer service.

Fr. Evarist presides over a prayer service.

IT'S ACADEMIC

A year of hard work and practice ended with the taping of It's Academic, a quiz show designed to test the skill and memory of its contestants.

Although the team did not win, they tried their best and were congratulated for their effort.

Contestants are congratulated after their fine performance.

Mary Siedlikowski, Anula Buda, Sandy Manikowski, and Mrs. M. Lucenti are practicing for the competition.

New NHS members light candles symbolizing knowledge during the induction.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Juniors and seniors who have achieved excellence academically as well as in character, leadership, service, and school spirit are awarded the honor of membership in the National Honor Society. A formal induction ceremony in which the members received their pins was witnessed in May by their proud parents and friends.

Cindy Piskorz, Carolyn Raczka, Jane Napierski, and Anula Buda celebrate after the induction ceremony.

Mrs. Drabek congratulates Sandy after receiving her pin.

RED CROSS AND F.B.L.A.

The Red Cross has been known for its community service and its dedication to helping others. Villa's Red Cross Club undertook holiday projects which combined the work of their hands with the generosity of their hearts in helping and cheering those less fortunate than themselves. They also help in preserving the gift of life by sponsoring an annual blood bank.

The chartered members of the Future Business Leaders of America work together in planning and carrying out projects and activities designed to teach them the fundamentals of business operation. With the help of Miss Fatta, they organized baked good sales and skating parties to practice firsthand management skills and social etiquette necessary in the business world.

HOME ECONOMICS

With skills learned in sewing classes, these seamstresses are fashioning their own wardrobe. Many hands took an active part in quilting to complete this coverlet.

Seniors in the advanced food preparation class participated in a contest sponsored by Fleishmann's Food products. Under Sister Michaeline's direction, they prepared and served well balanced meals to children from the Villa Maria Learning Center. Through an entertaining puppet show, the girls taught them about good nutrition.

Sister Dulciana helps Ann Nicpon hem Karen Przybyl's skirt.

Cathy Cialone, Michelle Collins, Clare Ceranski, and Debbie Dudziak work on a patchwork quilt.

Seniors enjoy a homemade spaghetti dinner.

Home Ec. 10 students share their home-cooked meal with the children from the Villa Maria Learning Center.

Children from the Learning Center attentively watch the puppet show.

CHORUS AND FOLK GROUP

Each Monday the lecture hall is alive with the sounds of music and harmony as Sister Barbara and Sister Ann Therese lead the thirty-three voices of the Chorus in song. This year the Chorus has performed in concerts as well as having sung for special occasion Masses.

Led by Sister Ann Therese, the Folk Group of Villa adds the beauty of song to all school Masses. The guitarists join with the singers to lead the school in worshiping our Lord through the gift of song.

Opportunity knocked and two people answered. S.M. Louise, the head of the Business department, was called to Rome to work at the Vatican. A new business teacher, Miss Mary Pat Furrey (below) joined the faculty.

S.M. Phyllis, the advisor, and the staff of the literary magazine, "Callisto," Karen Kotlarek, Isabelle Gorczynski, Mary Siedlikowski, Janet Turner, Nancy Grasso, and Michelle Matthews make plans for the publication.

CHRISTMAS PLAY

Traditionally, one of the highlights of the senior year at Villa is staging a Christmas play in honor of the underclassmen and faculty.

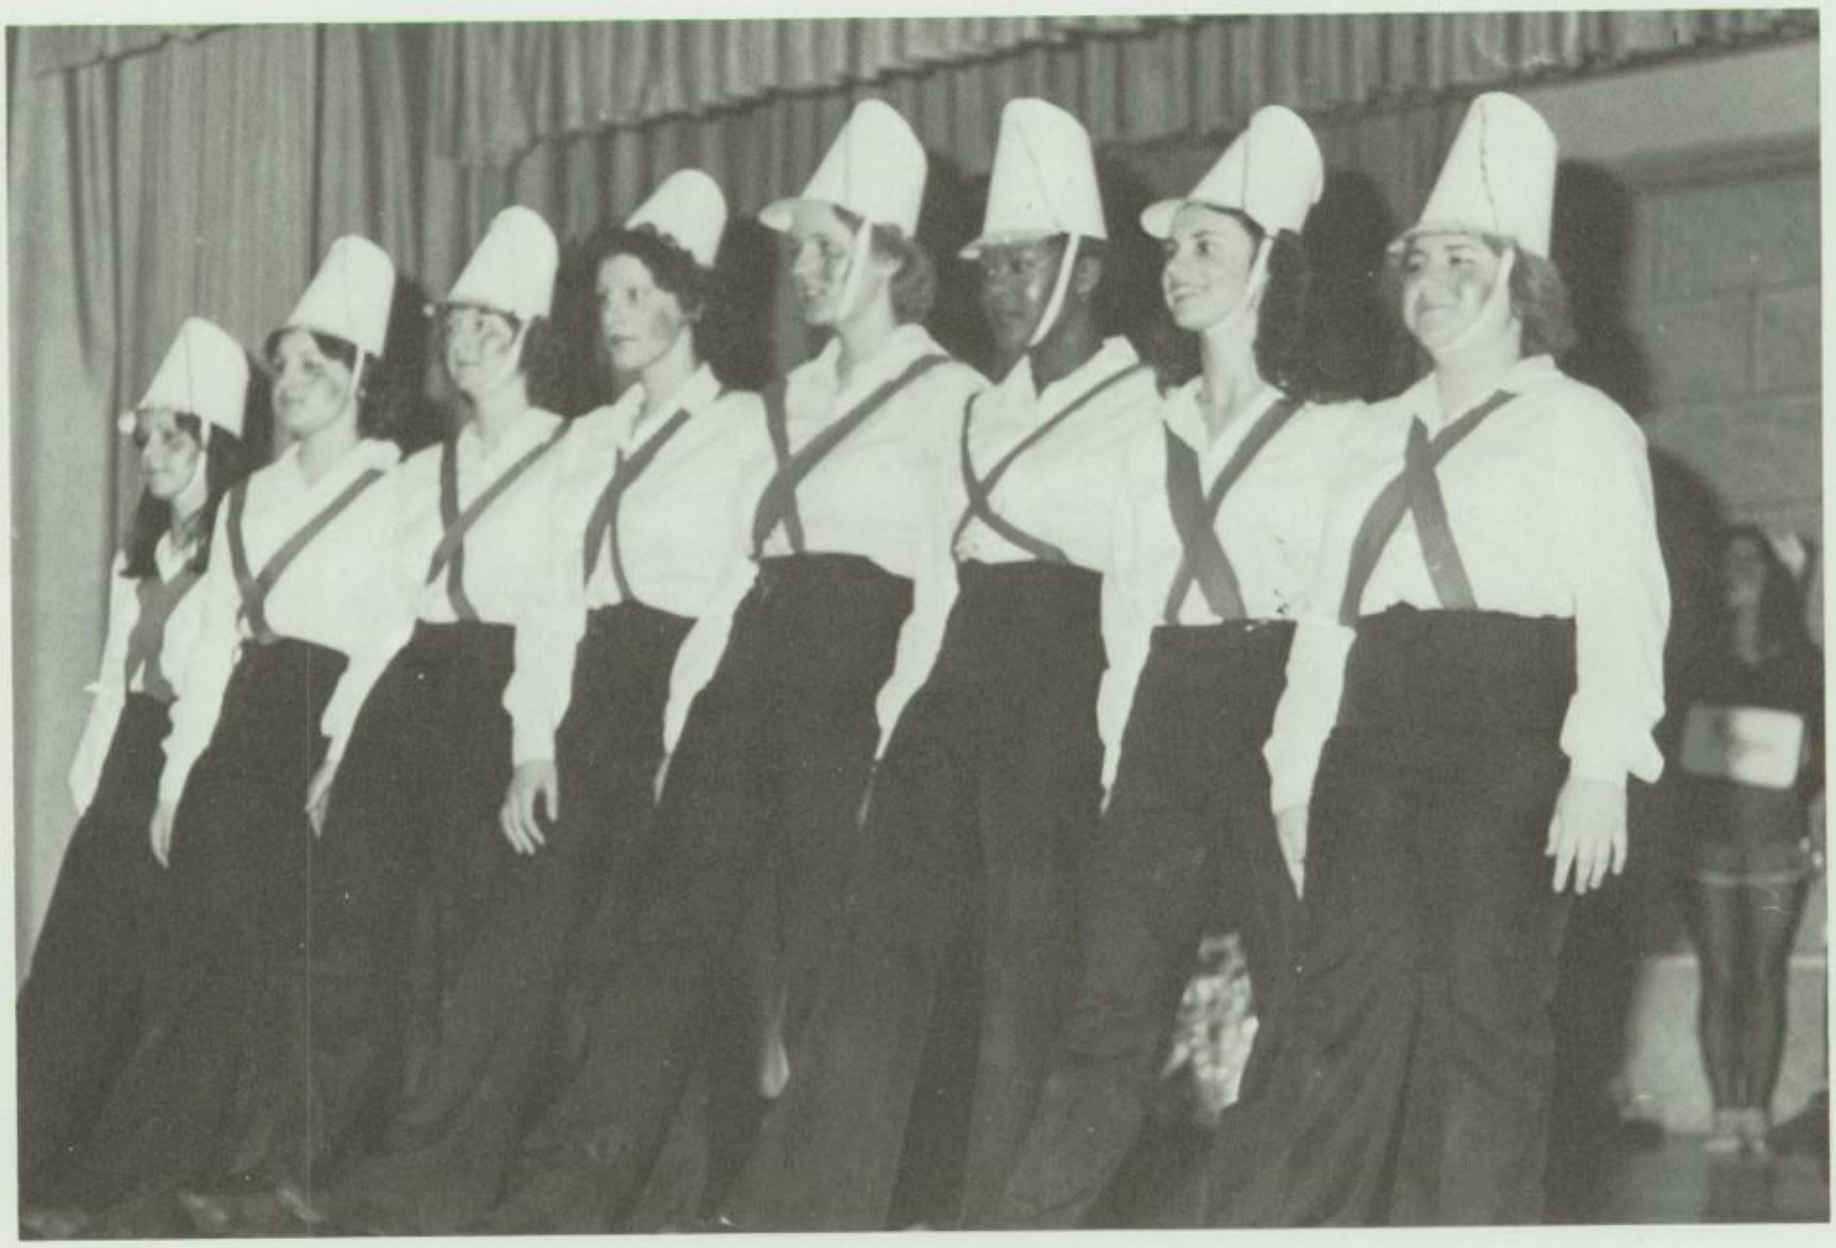
Before a captive audience, the seniors introduced our new school mascot, the Villa bear, to the true meaning of Christmas – the birth of our Saviour. Amid the fun and frolic, the Vilmarian spirit of Christmas was reflected in the smiling faces of the actresses and their audience.

Jennifer Podsiadlo narrates the story of "The Villa Bear's First Christmas."

The bear and his escorts wait for the bus to the mall.

Villa bear meets Frosty the Snowman.

A friendly gathering to decorate the tree.



Soldiers perform their dance in Santa's house.

Betsy Wetsy tells Santa her Christmas list.

A fight to sit on Santa's lap.

The senior chorus enjoys a fascinating scene.

Performers show the true meaning of Christmas – the Nativity.

LANGUAGES

Because of the importance of learning a second language, Villa requires every student to study two years of a foreign language. The language clubs were organized to help students learn more about the people behind the language and experience their way of life.

The French Club, under the direction of Madame Fleuridas, has delved into the culture of France, especially the French cuisine. Members have participated in everything from flipping crepes to making home made Christmas cards for the faculty.

The Polish, Latin, and Spanish Clubs have also tried adopting the customs and traditions of their countries through various projects throughout the year.

Mary Streicher gives Justine Pasternak her French Club pin.

Madame Fleuridas demonstrates how to flip a crepe.

Cathy Czerwiec, Terry Makson, and Judy Wesolowski taste their home made crepes.

Polish Club members display colored Easter eggs and a traditional Polish costume.

Spanish Club officers play "Scrabble" to enrich their vocabulary.

Latin Club members sing popular songs that were translated into Latin.

RELIGION

Villa places a special emphasis on the importance of religion in our lives. Students make a yearly retreat which gives them a chance to reflect on their spiritual life. Weekend retreats are also available for those interested in a deeper experience with God.

Seniors partake in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass to wind up their retreat.

Antoinette Pyszczynski, Carol Filipski, Mary Siedlikowski, and Sandra Manikowski express their views after a conference.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is the student government of Villa. Its members represent the student body and are responsible for maintaining the important link between the faculty and the students. Over the year, Stu-Co has sponsored dances, a magazine drive, skating parties, dress-up days, and a bike-hike-a-thon designed to unite our school in the hope that as a group we can achieve harmony. They promote school spirit in their enthusiastic decoration of the school halls during the Christmas season.

Jeanette Mackowiak and Barbara Kubera prepare skating passes.

Members make snowmen that were distributed to the faculty for Christmas.

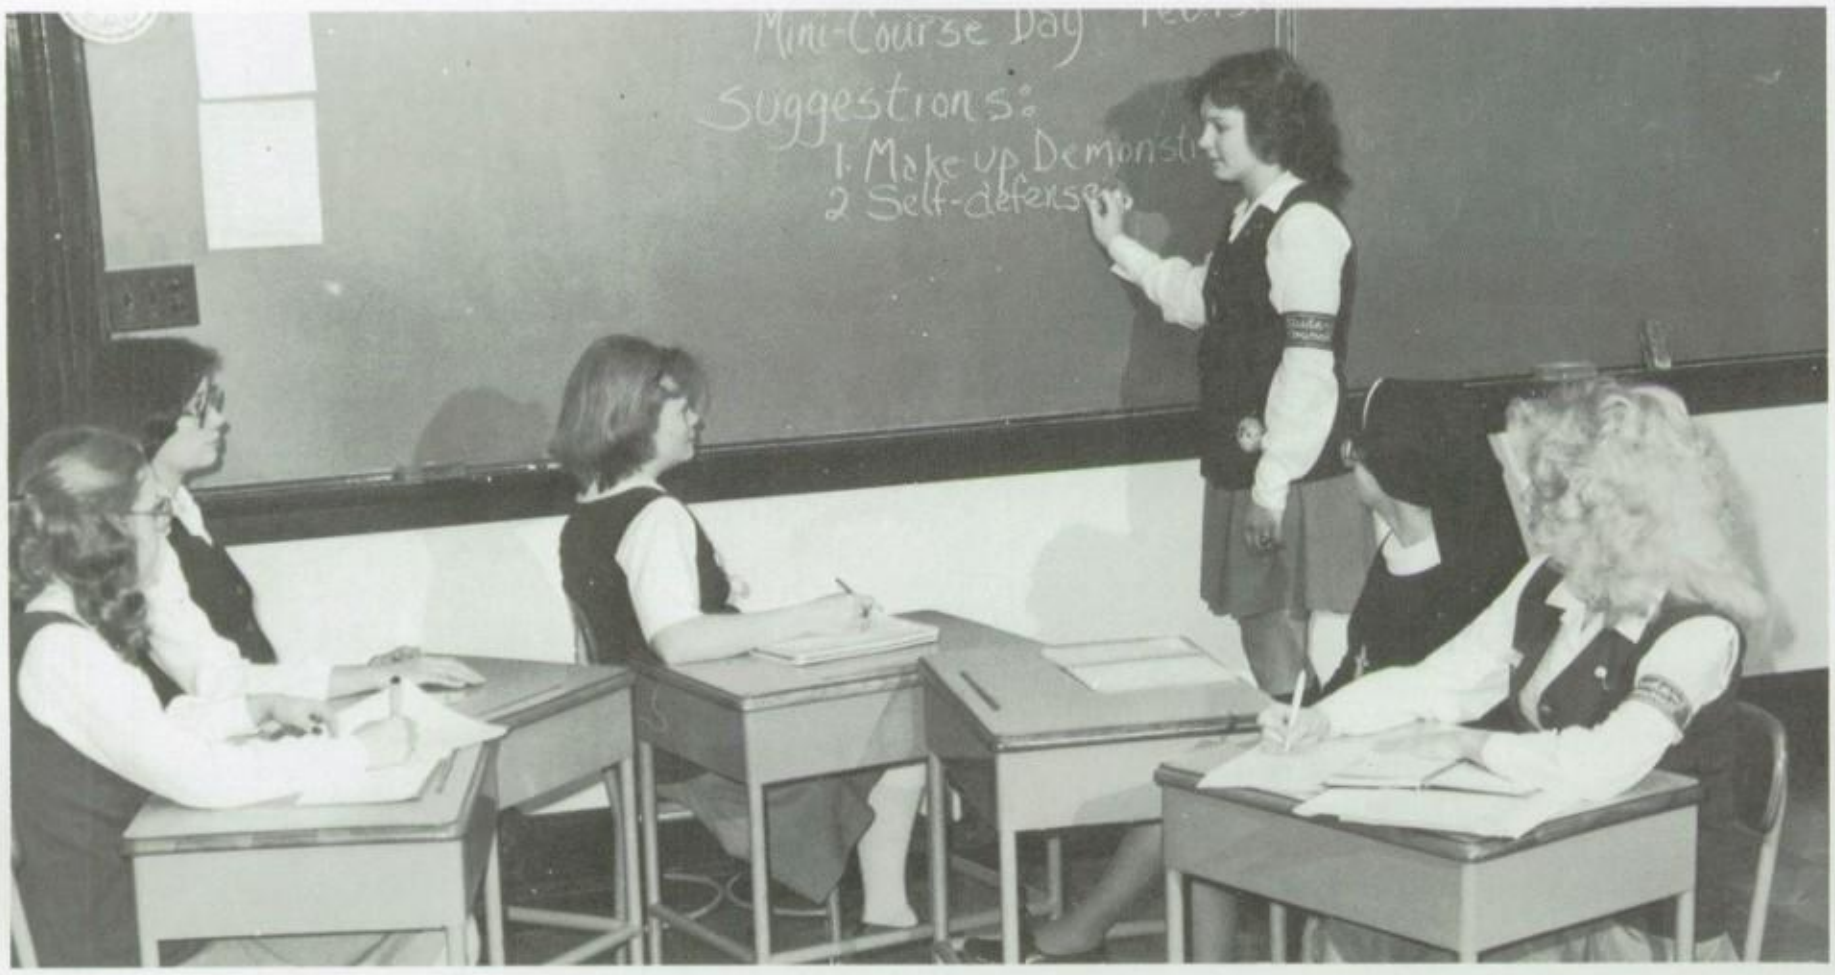
Justine Pasternak, Mary Streicher, and Anna Gorczynski unpack Christmas decorations.

Debbie Niemczal displays prizes for selling magazine subscriptions.

Sister Carmen counts the magazine subscriptions.

Ellen Pease speaks to juniors about the problem of world hunger.

Student Council members made an effort to stress the importance and relevance of the world hunger situation. Their Help Stop Hunger Program provided students with a detailed look at the current situation through filmstrips, discussions, and posters that offered advice on our participation in the solution to hunger.



Student Council officers: Cathy Czerwiec, secretary; Mrs. Kenyon, moderator; Anula Buda, vice-president; Debbie Niemczal, president; Sister Carmen, moderator; Sue Zakurzewski, treasurer.

Irene Worobel and Judy Sheppard lead a group discussion on hunger.

The photographer caught Ann Maylin's and Dorothy Zoledziowski's attention as they were painting.

Ellen Pease, Lisa Schneider, Jeanette Ruper, and Melanie Sprawka.

ART

Art students do much more than draw and paint in art classes. Although both of these are important, a well-rounded artist knows something about weaving, sculpture and print making, too. As you can see, Villa girls are given the opportunity to develop their talents in several artistic areas.

Below, Carol Dziadaszek holds up her weaving for Kim Bogdan, Debra Nowak, and Rebecca Myka who are busy completing their own.

It's so easy to make 100 cards printing with a silk screen.

Art Club members and their moderator display some decoupage plaques. Lou Ann Kantor, Christine Fox, Rosalea Tirone, Valerie Kaminski, Jennifer Ruda, and Sister Ann Therese.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

"Friends Are Forever" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Banquet on February 1, 1980. On that day, juniors and seniors celebrated the joy of their newly found friendships. In the morning, juniors presented the seniors with corsages and invitations to a banquet in their honor. Their excitement carried through to an afternoon Liturgy which the girls shared.

In the evening, they enjoyed a tantalizing buffet dinner in the social hall. Afterwards, the juniors entertained their guests with singing, dancing, and other delights. The highlight of the evening's entertainment was a candid slide show presented by Nancy Grasso depicting the seniors in their true colors.

Everyone enjoyed the day and hoped their blossoming friendships would continue to grow in the years to come.

Mary Beth Dettelis performs an interpretive dance.

Julie Kazmierzak, Janet Turner, Karen Kotlowski, and Cindy Lysiak sing a medley of songs from this century.

Ann Turyk, Linda Viapiano, and Maria Whitred perform a fifties dance.

Rosalie Collins and Judy Sheppard dance to "The Beat Goes On."

Captivated juniors and seniors watch the entertainment.

Margaret Cych sings "Ben."

Terry Marciniak and Karyn Bell perform a mime about friendship.

The "Jackson Eight" performs to the song "Rock With You."

Pep Club members sell refreshments to spectators during a game.

PEP CLUB

Members of the Pep Club help in keeping Villa's school spirit alive. They worked at basketball games selling refreshments and making signs and banners to cheer the team on to victory. Gym equipment was bought with the proceeds from the Campbell's soup drive sponsored during the year.

Pep Club members enthusiastically cheer at a game.

BASKETBALL

The speed and skill of Villa's basketball team, under the direction of Mrs. Reczek, once again made us proud of its accomplishments. Their ability to competently challenge their opponents won them a loyal allegiance of spectators at all their games. Even though their season's competition proved tough, they reaped the fruits of their labor with a third place finish in their division. The test of the true athlete is in his performing to the best of his abilities, and we are proud that our team has lived up to this standard.

CHEERLEADERS AND DRILL TEAM

The cheerleader is responsible for raising the spirits of her team and their followers. Villa's cheerleaders exude vitality, energy, and a vibrance which helped our school stay "super-psyched" throughout their competitive season.

Precision is the name of the game when it comes to the drill team. Villa's premier drill team delighted the crowds at basketball games with their half time exhibition of rhythm and coordination.

BOWLING AND GYMNASTICS

Strikes, spares, and misses could be the theme of the girls who participated in afterschool bowling at the Thruway Lanes. Thirty-two teams, under the expert eye of Miss Barone, learned the finer points of the skill and sportsmanship that make up the sport of bowling.

Gymnastics is the sport of the agile. Mrs. Reczek coached members of the Gymnastics Club in the tumbles, flips, turns, and bends that are characteristic of their sport.

VOLLEYBALL AND SWIMMING

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Volleyball Teams brought recognition to themselves and Villa in their determination to win. Success came with honors as both teams placed high in their divisions and won the distinction of being considered a formidable opponent.

The Swim Club was organized for students wishing to take full advantage of the excellent swimming facilities at Villa's Athletic Center. Afterschool, students met to perfect their aquatic skills and learn the basics of water survival with the help of Mrs. Reczek.

THE VILMARIAN STAFF

The creation of a yearbook is a long and tedious process. Many hours are spent on plans, decisions, and paperwork.

A yearbook staff is a special group of people who, working together, try to encapsule the events of a school year. There must be a harmony and friendship between them that is strong enough to withstand the setbacks and rejoice in the accomplishments.

The financial staff, led by Sister Vivian, organized the collection of patrons necessary to finance the operations of a yearbook. With the experience and guidance of Sister Aurelian, Sister Amelia, and Sister Barbara, the staff began their attempt to capture the spirit of Villa.

The finished product is a legacy of memories to be cherished for a lifetime.

DRAMA CLUB

Members of Villa's Drama Club devoted time and energy into developing their talents and learning the basics of theater art such as voice inflection, facial expression, and action.

The actresses and stage crew, under the direction of Mrs. M. Currie and Mrs. M. Yacono, channeled their creativity into practicing for the play "The Wizard of Oz."

VILLA MARIA CONVENT

We, as the staff of the Vilmarian, have reached the end of a path. Our high school days are now behind us. What we have attempted is to capture that fleeting element, time, within the confines of a book. We dedicate our work to the past in thankfulness that God had destined the foundation of our pathway in life to be laid in the experience of Villa.

Just as the sun rises each day, so shall there always be new paths ahead for us to conquer. But as we glance behind us, the 1980 Vilmarian will serve as a testimony – our footprint in the past.
